4TH ANNUAL SACRAMENTO VALLEY AIDS WALK
Sunday, September 12, 2004

It's coming up! It's almost here! Sept. 12th is less than two weeks away. That's when the 4th Annual Sacramento Valley AIDS Walk takes place in downtown Sacramento.

Join the Lambda Community Center in supporting this year's Walk. Lambda has taken a major role in the Walk and is sponsoring Team Lambda, a group of Lambda volunteers and supporters who are walking as a team to raise money for area AIDS-supporting organizations.

We would be excited to have you join Team Lambda and walk with us. You can sign on to our team online by going to SacValleyAIDSWalk.kintera.org, emailing Team Captain Jason R. Kirkland at jason@lambdasac.org, or by calling him at the Center at (916) 442-0185, ext. 103.

The Capitol City AIDS Fund puts the Walk on every year to help raise awareness and funds for these worthy organizations: AIDS Housing Alliance, Breaking Barriers, CARES, Center for Complementary Care,

Chemical Dependency Center for Women, Communicare Health Centers, Golden Rule Services, Harm Reduction Services, LGBT Resource Center at UC Davis, SANE, Sierra Foothills AIDS Foundation, Sunburst Projects, UC Davis Children's HIV Clinic, Wind Youth Center, and, of course, the Lambda Community Center.

The Walk starts on the west steps of the State Capitol with registration at 9:00 a.m. and the Walk starts at 10:00 a.m. It is a 5k walk and there are rest stations along the route. Come join us in a little exercise and a lot of fundraising and have a great time while you're at it!

Community Protest!

Sacramento's LGBTI Community Protests Same Sex Marriage Court Decision

By Jason R. Kirkland

The Supreme Court of California decided on Thursday, August 12, 2004 that the same sex marriages that were performed in the city of San Francisco for a short time in February and March of 2004 were null and void. The court ruled that the mayor of San Francisco, Gavin Newsom, overstepped his power as Mayor when he allowed County Clerk Mabel Teng to begin issuing marriage licenses to same sex couples.

The confusion, hurt, and anger of the over 4,000 couples who had been up to that point married must be quite overwhelming. Later that evening, Marriage Equality California (MECA) and Equality California (EQCA) joined forces in cities and towns all over the state of California to stage peaceful yet powerful rallies and marches to show our support for Mayor Newsom and his courageous decision to begin the fight for equal rights for all Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgendered Americans.

Here in Sacramento we are very lucky to have two wonderful representatives for MECA and EQCA. Kinna Patel (MECA) and Steve Hansen (EQCA) quickly organized our rally and march. Steve and Kinna got our community together with the support of the following sponsors: Stonewall Democratic Club of Greater Sacramento, Sacramento Chapter of NOW, Uptown Studios, SAC LEGAL, Sacramento Affirming Interfaith Network, as well as the Lambda Community Center.

The Sacramento Police Department arranged to give us police escorts on our march which began at the Lambda Community Center (1927 L Street) and took us approximately 11 blocks to the California Supreme Court Building. I am sure this was a way for the Sac PD to silently show us their support.

A crowd of over 200 people assembled outside the Lambda Community Center, where Executive Director Robert S. Brodie, welcomed everyone to the event. Kinna Patel told the ever-growing crowd about MECA's future events and implored all of us to engage ourselves in the fight for equal rights.

Steve Hansen invoked the crowd to march and to get involved. "The only way we can see change is to make

Mental Health Walk Coming Soon

Established in 2003 in response to the on-going mental health funding crisis, the Walk for Mental Health raises money to support vital services to persons with psychiatric disabilities and to promote better mental health for all. The Mental Health Walk is a collaborative effort by some of the major mental health providers in Yolo, Sacramento, and Placer Counties.

The purpose of the Walk is two-fold. First, to bring awareness and education to the larger community concerning the degree to which people suffer from a mental illness—the challenges, the hardships on families, and the overwhelming associated stigma. Second, to support agencies and programs working to help the mentally ill and their families build a sense of self-worth, self-esteem, and reduce isolation through socialization.

Lambda Board Member and original Mental Health Walk board steering committee member, Gina Luedemann, is chairing the Lambda Community Center's involvement in the Walk as a participating agency. She is looking for willing and committed walkers to help raise money for the Lambda Team.

All money raised will go to such Lambda programs as Women on Wednesdays, For Youth by Youth, Lambda/Breaking Barriers Youth Group, and the Men's Discussion and Coming Out groups. This could be a very significant boost to these programs.

We are recruiting Lambda supporters to participate in the Walk and raise money by asking friends and family to contribute to their effort.

Also, each of our programs is asked to contribute individual walkers to supplement our overall effort. Walkers will receive a free Mental Health Walk T-shirt for getting donations of $100.00 or more!

We would like to extend a special thank you to CGNIE and FACES for sponsoring the Mental Health Walk!

For more information, visit <http://walkformentalhealth.kintera.org>, where you can sign up to walk and/or donate money to your favorite Lambda group.

First Lambda/CAPITAL Scholarship

On Saturday evening, July 31st, at a special dinner held at Cal Expo, the CAPITAL Foundation, along with the Lambda Community Fund, recognized Lambda Center volunteer Serena Wong and awarded her a $1,000 college scholarship.

The Lambda Community Fund is a member organization of CAPITAL, the Council of Asian Pacific Islanders Together for Advocacy and Leadership, representing LGBTI Asian and Pacific Islanders.

Every year, the CAPITAL foundation matches scholarships given by its member institutions. This year's scholarship dinner saw 97 students receive over $100,000 in scholarships.

The theme of the evening was "Profiles in Courage and Excellence, For the Advancement of Our Students Today...To Become Our Leaders of Tomorrow." Lambda wishes to thank Carole Chong, who chaired the event, for putting together such a fun and wonderful event.

The Lambda Community Fund is very proud of our scholarship winner, Serena Wong. Serena attended Sacramento City College and transferred this August to California State University Sacramento with a dual major in Business Marketing and Psychology.

On My Mind

By Lori Reyes

I was all excited about participating in the 2004 Sacramento Valley AIDS Walk on September 12, 2004. I joined Team Lambda and sent emails to all my friends and family to sponsor me or join me in the walk. Then I realized the fact that there is still no cure for HIV/AIDS and that is downright depressing. I had to ask myself why is it that so many individuals are still being infected with HIV and what can I do to prevent myself and others from contracting HIV?

It is scary to think that a disease such as AIDS has already killed millions of individuals and that if we don't do something now to prevent the spread of this disease, millions more will continue to get infected and millions more will die.

What is even more frightening is to know that there is absolutely no cure for HIV/AIDS. Although people living with HIV are able to live longer lives due to Highly Active Antiretroviral Therapy, there is still no cure!

Each year an estimated 40,000 people in the United States alone become infected with HIV. African Americans represent 54 percent of these new infections. AIDS is the leading cause of death for African Americans between the ages of 25 and 44. There has also been a rapid increase in senior citizens contracting HIV.

40 million people around the world are living with HIV/AIDS. HIV does not discriminate. It affects young and old alike. It has no color boundaries and doesn't care what your sexual preference is.

The fact that so many individuals think they are immune to the disease is downright frightening. The only way we can prevent this disease from spreading is by education and awareness. Can you believe that the spread of this disease could be extinguished if everyone were truly educated on the causes and effects of HIV/AIDS?

Think about all the innocent babies born with HIV because their mothers did not have the means to prevent themselves from contracting the disease, or they contracted it from their unfaithful spouse. Millions of children in Africa and around the world are living with the disease and have no parents to care for them. So I say to you, "What can you do?"

You can practice safe sex each and every time, you can refrain from using dirty needles, you can make sure that you obtain your piercing and tattoos from a facility that is certified and uses sterilized equipment, and you can educate yourself and others.

*"I wasn't thinking that the person that I loved
could have easily
infected me with the disease.
Love is Blind."*

I, like many of you, never thought that I would ever have to worry about contracting HIV because I had always been in a monogamous relationship. I knew very little if anything about HIV/AIDS and I didn't think I needed to be educated on the disease because I wasn't a drug user. I wasn't having sex with multiple partners and I didn't even know anyone who was HIV positive.

I wasn't thinking that the person that I loved could have easily infected me with the disease. Love is blind! You think that just because you love someone you are immune to being infected with an STD or HIV. But that is all a bunch of crap! You can be the nicest person, you can be totally faithful and the one day you might meet someone who you truly love and who loves you.

But somehow that person just may somehow forgot to tell you about their past and that they have never been tested for HIV. The next thing you know, you are infected with HIV and your whole world has been turned upside down. I have met so many individuals in that very situation.

This could all be prevented though, you can educate yourself, practice safe sex each and every time, don't hesitate to ask someone you are considering dating to get tested, and if you have had multiple partners, tattoos or piercings, you should also be tested.

About five years ago, I decided to get involved in the AIDS community. I volunteered for two separate organizations that assisted individuals living with HIV/AIDS. I learned as much as I possibly could about the disease. I attended work shops. I met several individuals who were at various stages of the disease. Some looked great, took their medication, were taking good care of themselves, and had great support group. Others who had no support groups whatsoever and were already at the final stages of the disease. Even though I think I may know a lot about the disease, there is still so much more to learn. What I do know, I will not hesitate to teach others.

So I beg you, before you think about having sex with someone whose sexual history you don't know that well, be safe and use protection. Or be willing to hold off until you both test negative for HIV, and then be sure to use protection each and every time.

For more information on the prevention of HIV and AIDS, check out www.stopglobalAIDS.com, or visit Breaking Barriers or the LAMBDA Community Center.

Scenes from the Rally and March on the Supreme Court

"In Sickness and in Health"

By Doug Pieper, age 20

"In sickness and in health!" When a heterosexual utters those vows to the person they have chosen to be with for the rest of their lives, they obviously love that person. Is love between two men or two women any different? True love is true love!

Many people think that love between same sex individuals is wrong. They say that same sex marriage (if permitted) would diminish the "sanctity" of marriage.

My belief is that humans are humans; we all deserve equal rights! Rights that are given to us at birth whether we are yellow, black, white, green, male, lesbian, female or gay. How can you still have the freedom of speech and the right to bear arms, but not have the right to marry the love of your life? Shouldn't that be one of the most basic rights? Why is same sex marriage is out of the question?

Our president wants to add a constitutional amendment banning same sex marriage, and making permanently making us second-class citizens. President Bush would rather set us back, as a people, than make progress in the 21st century. Most homosexuals know what it is like to be discriminated against, so I pose this challenge to you: When someone shoots down same sex marriage, don't consider them narrow minded (although it is easy to do), educate them on the topic! Inform them of your beliefs and how you feel.

Together, we can change the world. Be a part of the movement, write a letter to the governor, put up a poster! Do something! Don't just whine about the way things are going. Stand up for yourself! Stand up for the LGBT community!

It," he said.

The 7p.m. the march to the Supreme Court was lead with our sign that read, "We Deserve Equal Rights!" Vay Van, Serena Wong, Kelly McAlister and others led the crowd with the chant, "What do we want?" Reply: "EQUAL RIGHTS!" "When do we want them?" Reply: "NOW!"

This chant was met by encouraging drivers and pedestrians on the streets of downtown Sacramento. People honked their horns as they drove past. Some people even dropped what they were doing and joined the march!

In front of the Supreme Court building, we were led in a moment of silence by Reverend Robyn Hartwig from the Lutheran Church of Our Redeemer. The crowd listened as Margie Wells and her "wife" Gretchen Bender explained why we and they deserve the right to marriage and to be free to marry! The proceedings ended when vocalist Terry Dyer graced us with a song.

The charismatic Steve Hansen again addressed the protesters and then led our march back to the Lambda Center where he and Kinna offered a Q & A session regarding same sex marriage and the Supreme Court ruling.

The March was very emotional for me. Personally, as a gay man that has become very active in the LGBT community, this rally and march moved me once again to seek ways to become even more involved. The entire event reminded me that to see change happen, you have to give change a helping hand. If it takes getting your family, straight friends, co-workers, and neighbors involved, that IS what needs to be done.

One thing I'd like to add here. Reporters and camera crews from all the Sacramento TV stations came out, filmed our march and rally, and put it on their evening newscasts. One major Sacramento news source sent a reporter and then completely ignored our march. That source was the Sacramento Bee. They carried San Francisco's stories and pictures and ignored the home-town Sacramento story. For a newspaper with a "liberal" outlook, they don't seem to cover many LGBT events of any kind that happen in Sacramento. The Sacramento Bee seems to believe that LGBT folks only live in SF and Hollywood. Our readers might want to call the Bee's Ombudsman and ask him why! He can be reached at (916) 442-8050; email him at ombud@sacbee.com, or write to him at P.O. Box 15779, Sacramento, CA 95852.

Gay Code of Conduct

How far is too far when it comes to public displays of affection? Does one limit kissing and touching so as to prevent others from feeling uncomfortable, or does one simply say, "To hell with everyone else?"

For me, it was date number three. My boyfriend and I cruised the Arden Fair Mall (which is the haven for any youth who has no money and nothing better to do). While cuddling on a cozy bench outside of JC Penny's, we were approached by a rude and very intimidating mall security officer. The mall officer ordered us to stop cuddling for some reason or another and left us sitting four feet away from one another. This was not the last visit from mall security that day.

After a brief kiss, open mouth of course since it was our third date, the mall security officer returned to enforce the code of conduct of the Mall. The officer informed us that Arden Fair was a family-oriented establishment and that we needed to leave. I was more than a little upset. I was ready to be handcuffed, to be carried out of the mall kicking and screaming "Homophobic!" But I didn't. The supervisor explained their logic of the rules of conduct which states, "using sexually explicit language or conduct, or in any way creating a disturbance which interferes, disrupts, or endangers the malls patrons or its commercial functions will be asked to leave." Security escorted us to the nearest exit as we held hands feeling humiliated and powerless.

I tried to rationalize the event; thinking that maybe all people who kiss, even straight couples, are asked to leave. But I have seen too many men and women kiss in the mall to believe that for even a second. Heck, bare-breasted women feed their babies while sitting on mall benches, for all the world to see. "Family Oriented?" What does that even mean? Will children be traumatized when they see two boys holding one another closely or, heaven forbid, even kissing. Certainly, no one in a lesbian or gay family would be offended.

Although the boy and I are no longer dating, I am very much inclined to bring all my dates to the mall for some public displays of affection. Not any type of groping mind you, just the "PG" stuff. And I encourage everyone to not become discouraged anytime someone yells 'faggot!' while holding hands or displaying affection for the person that you are seeing. If, in any way, you are made to feel less than worthy of existing in a society that shuns you, I strive to encourage everyone to continue expressing love and affection with your head held high. Be proud of who you are, no matter where you are!

Family Fun Day

We are happy to announce that our Family Fun Day on Sunday, August 29th, was a great success. The wonderful and amazing Miss Bianca organized the Family Fun Day as a special fundraising event in an effort to help her community by helping the Lambda Community Center.

Bianca arranged to have local hair-stylists Damien Archer and Terry Dykes to provide $5 haircuts. Empress XXIX of C.G.N.I.E. Inc. Adrian Klyne with the assistance of Diva in Training Bella Klyne, ICP Bruce, Jr. Closet Ball Queen Jesse, along with David, Tisha, Carrie, Britney and Jessica were all washing cars in the back parking lot of Lambda for $5 in the 103° heat!

We had Bobbye Pond, Randy Reyes and Edwin Huaco selling their delicious tacos for Breaking Barriers. By 1:30 p.m., the Breaking Barriers crew had sold out of all of their tacos, so seeing a need, Lambda Board VP JG Gonsalves and Executive Director Robert S. Brodie stepped in and prepared and sold additional tacos for all to enjoy.

The rummage sale was really a sidewalk sale run by Bianca and Jason Kirkland out in the front of the Lambda Community Center. Items of all imaginable types were donated entirely by members or supporters of the LGBT Community. They made for very interesting browsing!

Miss Bianca

Words can't describe the wonderful vibrations that ran throughout the Center. The talented Miss Bianca Ramos managed to put together a Center full of happy people having a great time! By the end of the day, the Lambda Community Center was full of people such as Emperor XXX Jonathan Cameron of C.G.N.I.E. Inc., and many others having a grand time in what was truly a Center for the whole community to enjoy!

THANK YOU Miss Bianca from everyone involved with the Lambda Community Center. Family Fun Day started at 12:30pm and lasted until 6pm and netted the Lambda Community Center over $350.

New Board Members

The Lambda Community Fund is proud to announce the election of three new members to the Board of Directors. They are Teresa Favuzzi, Bob Herne, and Francine Ramsey.

Teresa Favuzzi has a masters in Social Work from San Francisco State. She has extensive experience and knowledge of the LGBT and disability rights movements. Teresa managed the Independent Living Resource Center of San Francisco; founded a lesbian, bisexual, disabled women's organization; and currently directs a state-wide advocacy network of 29 organizations.

Bob Herne is Program Director for Sierra Adoption Services. He has a Masters in Social Work from Howard University and has been involved in LGBT issues for over twenty years. Bob has provided crisis counseling and facilitated groups at Montreal's Concordia University, the 519 Center in Toronto, and the Whitman Walker Center in Washington D.C.

Francine Ramsey is the Co-Founder and Executive Director of Zuna Institute, a national advocacy organization for Black Lesbians, and the creator of the National Black Lesbian Conference. Francine has been a community advocate for over 20 years working with civil rights organizations, and various LGBT organizations of color. Her professional career is in organizational development, community organizing, training and leadership development.

Our new members have joined a team that is working hard to meet the needs of Sacramento's LGBTI community.
